1. Introduction

This Conflict of Interest Policy applies to and focusses on all Trustees and employees of the Vivensa Foundation, as well as applying to members of all sub-Committees/Panels of the Vivensa Foundation and any individuals participating in committee or decision-making processes on behalf of the Foundation.

2. Definition and principles

The Trustees of the Vivensa Foundation accept the definition and principles in the Charity Commission document “Conflicts of Interest: A Guide for Charity Trustees” \(CC29\). This states that “a conflict of interest is any situation in which a Trustee’s personal interests or loyalties could, or could be seen to prevent the trustee from making a decision only in the best interests of the charity”.

The Trustees accept that the scope of conflict of interest includes:

- Direct financial gain or benefit to the Trustee, such as:
 - payment to a Trustee for services provided to the charity;
 - the award of a contract to another organisation in which a Trustee, Committee/Expert Panel member or employee has an interest and from which a Trustee, Committee/Expert Panel member or employee will receive a financial benefit;
 - the employment of a Trustee in a separate post within the charity, even when the Trustee has resigned in order to take up the employment.
- Having an interest in, or a close relationship with, an organisation, adviser or partner working with the Foundation or seeking to do so

3. Compatibility with the governing document

This policy is intended to be compatible with the provisions for dealing with conflicts of interest included in the Articles of Association of the Vivensa Foundation. Issues of direct, indirect and non-financial gain covered in the Articles of Association are excluded from this policy. If there is any conflict between this policy and the Articles of Association, the Articles take priority.

Duties and responsibilities

In line with Charity Commission requirements, Trustees have a legal obligation to act in the best interests of the charity and in accordance with the Articles of Association.

Employees of the charity and Committee/Expert Panel members have similar obligations. They should:

- Maintain the highest possible standard of integrity in all business relationships, both inside and outside the Foundation.
- Reject any business practice which might reasonably be deemed improper (including improper practices which might benefit the Foundation).
- Never use their authority or position for personal gain.
- At all times, act with impartiality, independence and integrity.
- Avoid being, or giving the appearance of being, in a position which may result in an actual or perceived detriment to the Foundation's reputation and/or interests.

Conflicts of interest may arise where an individual's personal or family interests and/or loyalties conflict with those of the charity. Such conflicts may create problems and can:

- inhibit free discussion;
- result in decisions or actions that are not in the interests of the charity;
- risk the impression that the charity has acted improperly.

The aim of this policy is to protect both the Vivensa Foundation and the individuals involved from any appearance of impropriety.

4. Declaration of Interests

Accordingly, Trustees, employees and other members of sub-Committees/ Panels of the Board of Trustees are asked to declare their interests, and any gifts or hospitality received in connection with their role in the Vivensa Foundation. A declaration of interests form will be provided for this purpose, listing the types of interests which should be declared. To be effective, the declaration of interests will be updated annually, and/or when any specific changes occur, as appropriate.

Interests of Trustees, staff and Committee/Expert Panel members will be recorded in a Register of Interests as part of the Statutory Books of the company. The register will be maintained by the Head of Communities and Governance and held in the Foundation's office.

It is not possible to define all situations or relationships which may create a conflict of interest, so each situation must be evaluated individually. However, some of the more obvious conflicts include:

- Having any interest, dealings or shareholdings in any business which either is a competitor, customer, supplier or Foundation partner or is seeking to become one.
- A close family member (including children, in-laws, partner or spouse) having any interest, dealings or shareholdings in any business which either is a competitor, customer, supplier or Foundation partner, or is seeking to become one.
- Having a close or longstanding relationship/friendship with a business which either is a competitor, customer, supplier or Foundation partner, or is seeking to become one.

In all cases, individuals have a responsibility to assess the potential conflict. Actual or perceived conflicts of interest must be disclosed.

5. Data Protection

The information provided will be processed in accordance with data protection principles as set out in the General Data Protection Regulations. Data will be processed only to ensure that Trustees, employees and Committee/Expert Panel members act in the best interests of the charity. The information provided will not be used for any other purpose. Full information about how personal information is used can be found in the Foundation's Privacy Notice.

6. Conflicts of interest in relation to meetings

Conflicts of interest arising from agenda items to be discussed at meetings of the Board of Trustees, or meetings of sub-Committees/Panels of the Board, should be declared and minuted at the beginning of each meeting. The Trustee, employee or Committee/Expert Panel member declaring their interest should withdraw from any subsequent discussion.

The conflicted person may, however, participate in discussions from which they may indirectly benefit (for example, where the benefits are universal to all users), or where the benefit is minimal.

In the event of a Trustee, Committee/Expert Panel member or employee failing to declare an interest that is known to the Chair of the Board and/or the Chief Executive, the Chair or Chief Executive will declare that interest.

7. Conflicts of interest in respect of grant applications

A Trustee may be a named co-applicant on a grant application but may not be named as the lead applicant. Where a Trustee is a named co-applicant or has any direct interest in a grant application, the Trustee in question must withdraw from any discussion relating to the application and from any decision or process of ratification relating to it.

Any other Trustee from the host institution submitting the grant application must also withdraw from the discussion and/or decision.

The Chair and Vice-Chair of the Research Grants Committee may not apply for funding during their term of office either as lead applicant or co-applicant.

NB. Conflicts of interest likely to occur in respect of grant applications are dealt with in greater detail in the respective Grants Committees' Code of Conduct.

8. Decisions taken where a Trustee, Committee/Expert Panel member or employee has an interest

In the event of the Board of Trustees having to decide upon a question in which a Trustee, Committee/Expert Panel member or employee has an interest, all decisions will be made by vote, with a simple majority required. A quorum must be present for the discussion and decision; interested parties will not be counted when deciding whether the meeting is quorate. Interested Trustees may not vote on matters affecting their own interests. Similar arrangements will operate for sub-Committees/Panels of the Board.

All decisions under a conflict of interest will be recorded in the minutes of the relevant Board or sub-Committee/Panel meeting. The minutes will record:

- the nature and extent of the conflict;
- an outline of the discussion;
- the actions taken to manage the conflict.

In the event of a decision taken by which a benefit accrues to a Trustee, this will be reported in the annual report and accounts, in accordance with current Charities SORP regulations. All payments or benefits in kind to Trustees will be reported in the annual report and accounts, with amounts for each Trustee listed for the year in question.

Where an employee or Committee/Expert Panel member is connected to a party involved in the supply of a service or product to the charity, this information will be fully disclosed in the annual report and accounts.

Independent external moderation will be used when conflicts cannot be resolved through the usual procedures.

9. Managing contracts

Where a conflict of interest exists in respect of a contractual arrangement, the conflicted person must not be involved in managing or monitoring that contract. Monitoring arrangements for such contracts will include provisions for an independent challenge of bills and invoices, and termination of the contract if the relationship is deemed by the Board of Trustees to be unsatisfactory.

Actual conflicts of interest must be avoided and potential conflicts of interests carefully managed. The Chief Executive must review the disclosed interest, discuss it openly and manage it so that employees do not become involved in or influence situations where actual conflicts of interest occur.

Members of staff failing to comply with the above procedures may be subject to disciplinary action and/or legal action being taken wherever appropriate.
